Dear valued Thomas Foods employee,

A free Job Connection Service has been established to help Thomas Foods International (TFI) employees who have been affected by the Murray Bridge fire.

While TFI continues to redeploy staff to other sites, some workers may be seeking new employment opportunities.

The service operates from Regional Development Australia Murraylands and Riverland in Murray Bridge. It can match you with potential new employers who have jobs available now and in the near future.

Businesses in the region are recognising there may be workers affected by the fire who are seeking new employment opportunities, and are contacting us to help them find new staff.

We can provide support to help you with these new job opportunities including writing your resume, practising for job interviews, assisting with applications and organising training you may need for a new job.

The free Job Connection Service will help find real jobs in Murray Bridge and nearby towns.

We encourage you to contact our office to discuss these opportunities. Please contact our office via phone, email or in person to book an appointment.

We are here and available to help.
