Sixth Street ART FEST will be a day packed with FREE workshops for all ages, great local music and delicious food, all in the heart of the Murray Bridge arts precinct!

The event will be held on Sunday 3 April from 11am to 3pm. Murray Bridge Regional Gallery Director and event organiser Fulvia Mantelli said that a great selection of diverse workshops for all ages will be on offer.

"They range from Ngarrindjeri weaving with Aunty Ellen Trevorrow, to aerosol art with Dale Trotter and our friends at The Station", she said.

Other workshops include pottery handbuilding with Tatty K, Zine-making with Claire Wildish, wire sculptures with Isla Hannan-Francis, and stamped charms using recycled materials with Sue Garrard. There will be needle-felting with Chelsea Budarick, silk scarf painting with Helen Moon, watercolour native birds with Rebecca Prince and fun with watercolour for kids with Gaynor Hartvigsen.

Ms Mantelli said: "Sixth Street ART FEST is a perfect place to feed your imagination, tap in to your curiosity, hone your crafting skills or discover something new – and best of all, to be a part of growing creativity and connections in our community."

Local live music will play all day, programmed by Murray Bridge's own Hannah Smith. A great range of food vans and local venues will satisfy appetites. Free face painting is always a favourite!
