BLOW off some steam when historic engines fire up for Big Boys and Their Vintage Toys during South Australia's History Festival.

The tribute to early engineering ingenuity will be held at the Captain's Cottage Museum at the end of the month.

Engines and machinery will rumble to life while visitors enjoy an interactive exhibition of vehicles, farming machinery and carriage collections.

Council's Team Leader Communications and Tourism Janice Blair said the museum would showcase vintage engines and machinery along with transportation from yesteryear.

"Many locals are unaware of the historical treasures hidden in our own backyard and we invite everyone to come along and explore the museum." she said.

"Bring the family and enjoy demonstrations and displays set amongst the charm and character of the Captain's Cottage Museum."

"See firsthand the progression and development of Murray Bridge as a transport and agricultural region through the evolution of motors and tools during the past century."

Big Boys and their Vintage Toys will be held from 11am until 3pm on Sunday 26 May 2019, at the Captain's Cottage Museum, 12 Thomas Street, Murray Bridge.

Entry is $5 per person, $1 for children or $10 per family.
