Date: Wednesday 2 June 2021

CELEBRATE music, food, language and the diversity of traditions and cultures from all around the world that are now part of the Murraylands community, with a cultural festival in the local arts precinct this month.

All Culture Fest 2021 will be held from 2pm until 4pm Sunday 27 June at the Murray Bridge Town Hall. Seats are limited due to Covid restrictions so make sure you access your tickets before the day to avoid missing out.

The free community event will celebrate National Refugee Week in collaboration with the Murraylands Migrant Resource Centre.

The annual event has been growing in popularity over the years, bringing hundreds of people together from all ages and walks of life.

However, last year's celebration was unable to go ahead due to COVID-19 restrictions, and event organisers plan on making up for it this year.

Mayor Brenton Lewis said organisers are encouraging people from all sectors of the community to attend.

"Community support for this event has been truly inspiring," he said.

"We are back with renewed vigour this year and we encourage everyone to come along and bask in the rich cultural, social and religious diversity that is woven into the fabric of The Rural City of Murray Bridge.

"It's a great way to learn about other cultures and make new friends."

Entertainment will include a variety of talented performers, singers and multicultural dancers.

An official Citizenship Ceremony will also be held to welcome new Australians.
